

El Fumat (Formentor)

The Cape Formentor is one of the most charming places of the island. The route combines a walk on a paved road with a steep overgrown path, on the one El Fumat (334m) is reached. This beautiful way was built under Queen Isabel II to bring in bad weather coal to the lighthouse. The bay of Cala Murta which we pass, is impressing by the wonderful peace and its turquoise blue water.

The path represents the handcraft of dry-wall construction, as well the wildlife is incredible and wild in this area: wild mountain goats and many species of birds, sea eagles, hawks, and – with a little luck - we will even see the largest bird in Europe, the black vulture!

Once at the top, magnificent views are waiting for us - the Bay of Pollensa until the lighthouse of Formentor, the Bay of Alcúdia, even the highest mountains of the Sierra de Tramuntana with the Puig Major. A beautiful view of the bay of Cala Figuera we will have from a vantage point 50 m further west, even the neighboring island of Menorca is visible on a clear day ...
